

The Decoys and Folk Art
of
William J. (Bill) Hollis

Bill Hollis (right) with his brother Chuck, father Walter, and Coco, at a hunting camp (tent) on Chimney Island, c. 1950.

3rd place miniature duck boat at the 1980 U.S. National Decoy Show

Bill seining minnows on the River, mid 1950s.

Bill Hollis, with son William, and a sturgeon. Bill and his father, Walter, fished sturgeon commercially in the 1940s and 1950s.

Bill fishing near the Ogdensburg Prescott Bridge in the last punt that he built, c. 1996.

Bill near his camp on the River, c. 1947

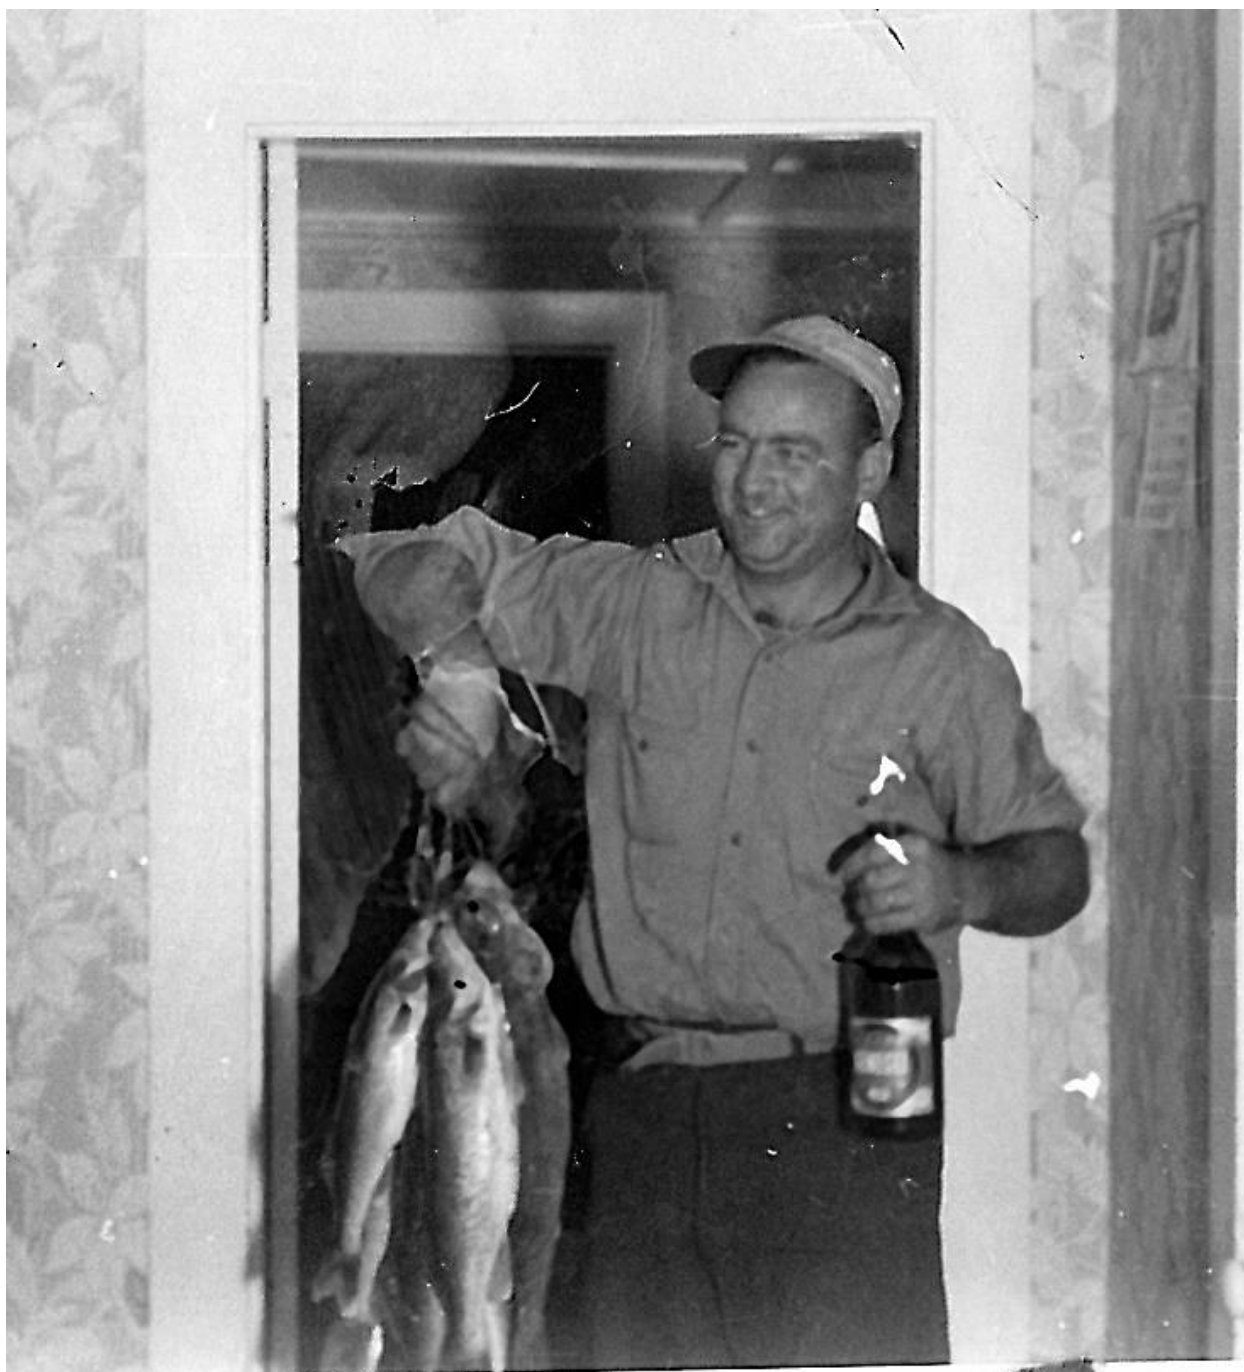

Hunting at Drummond's Island, c. 1943

Bill sitting on the gunnel of a punt, c. 1943.

Bill in his basement with the results of a recent hunting trip.

Bill with a nice catch of walleyes, November 1953.

Bill with two nice walleyes c. 1996.